

A Tourist's View of China, 2002

The “Independent” Travelers

Cynthia Johnson Rory Van Tuyl

Our Beijing Hosts

Tina Zhao

Minnie Zhang

Lao Wu

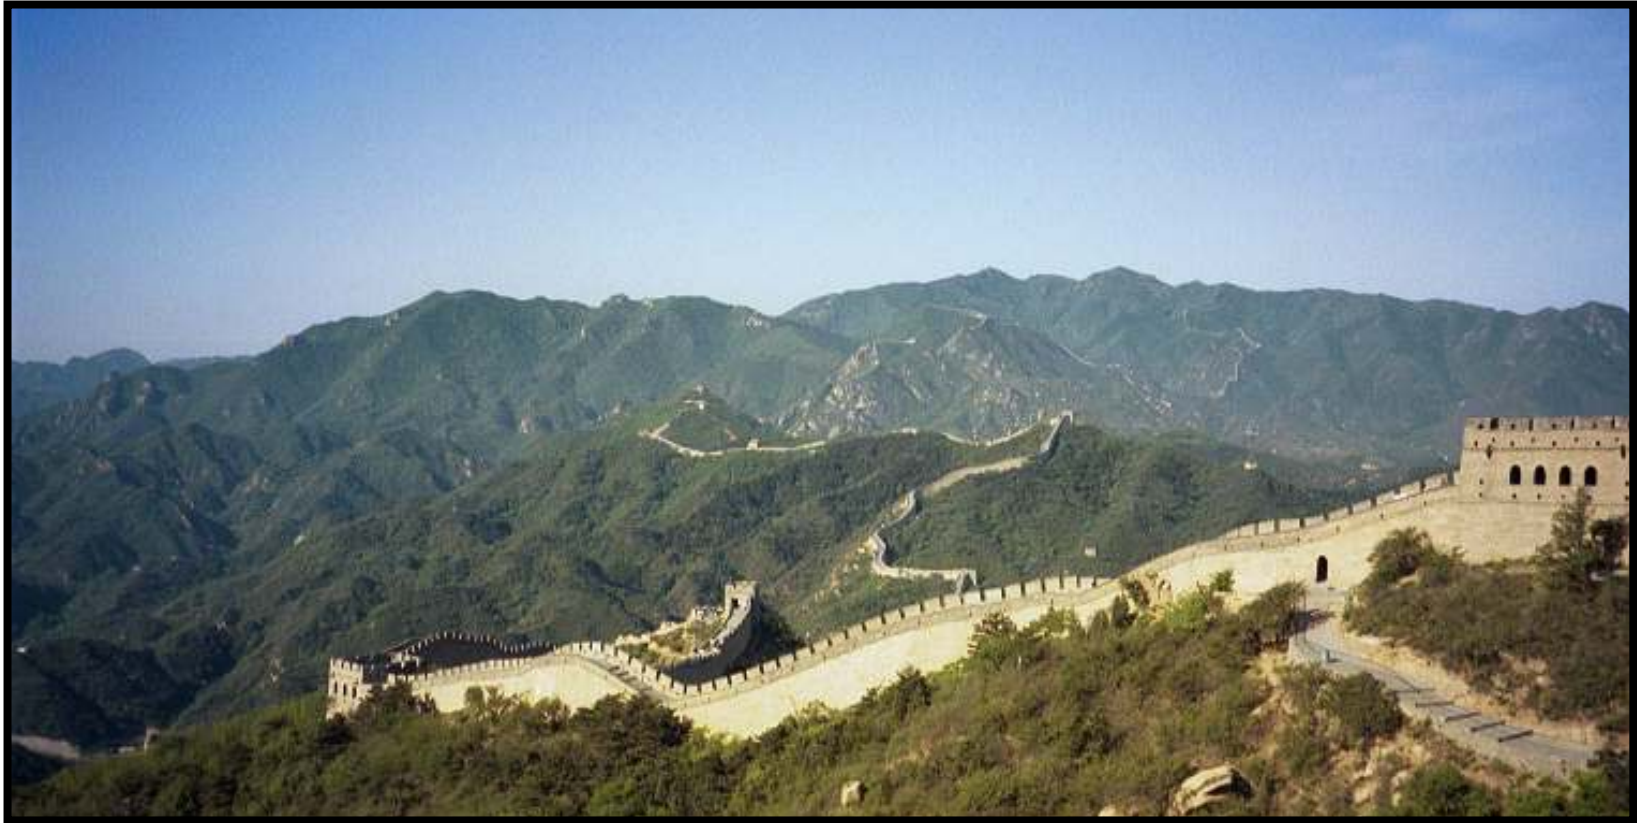

The Forbidden City

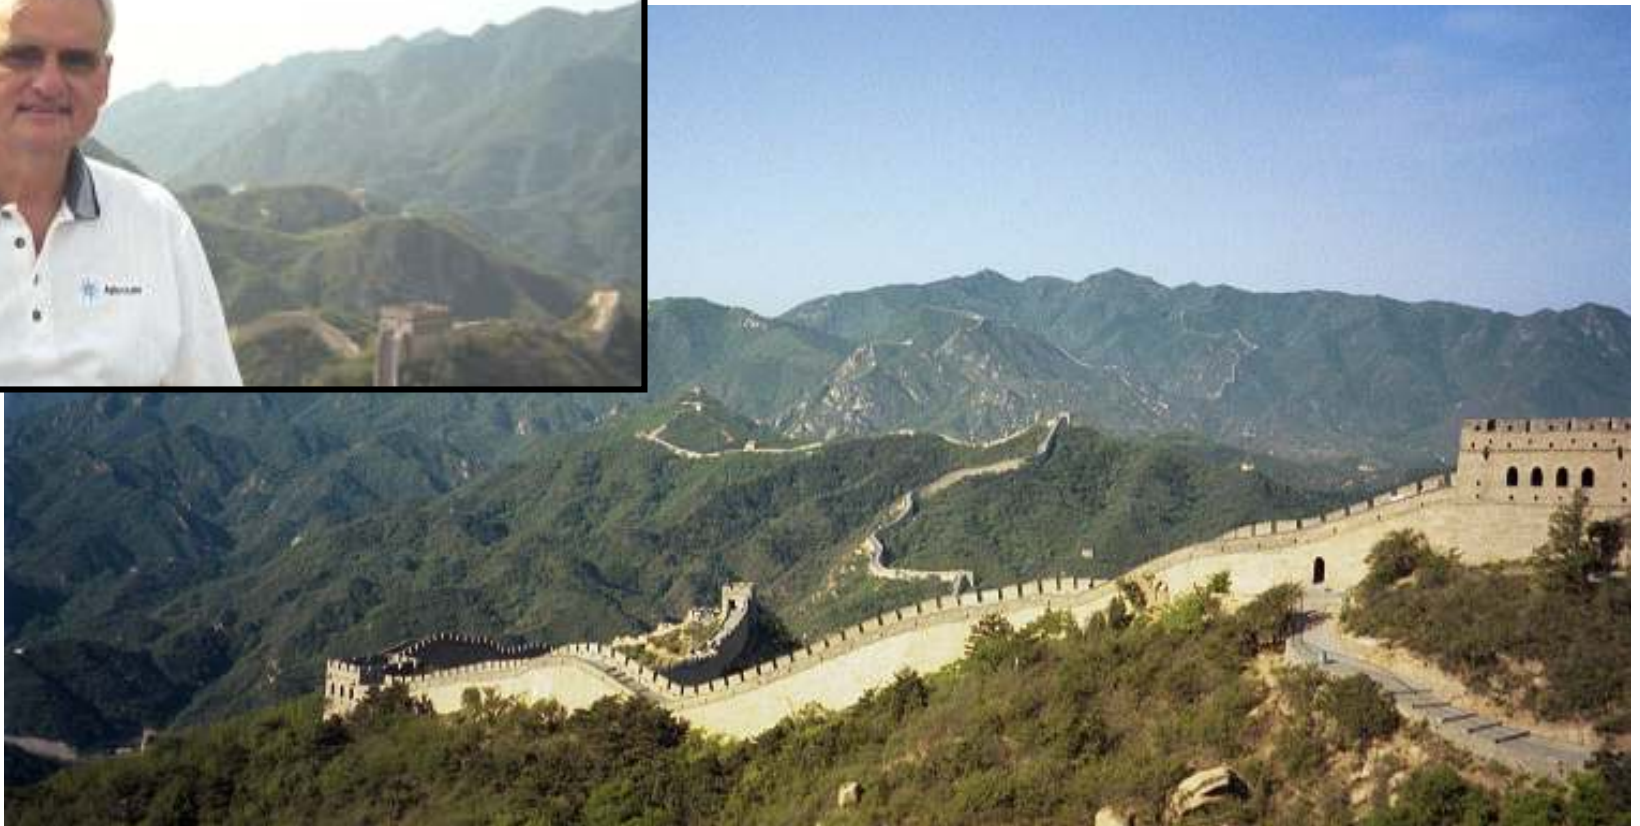

Inside the Forbidden City

The Great Wall of China

Visiting the Great Wall of China

Cynthia Climbs the Wall

The Summer Palace

Summer Palace Pagoda and Teahouse

Vestiges of Mao

Beijing, a City of Bikes and Cars

...and Pedicabs of All Types

...and Fascinating People

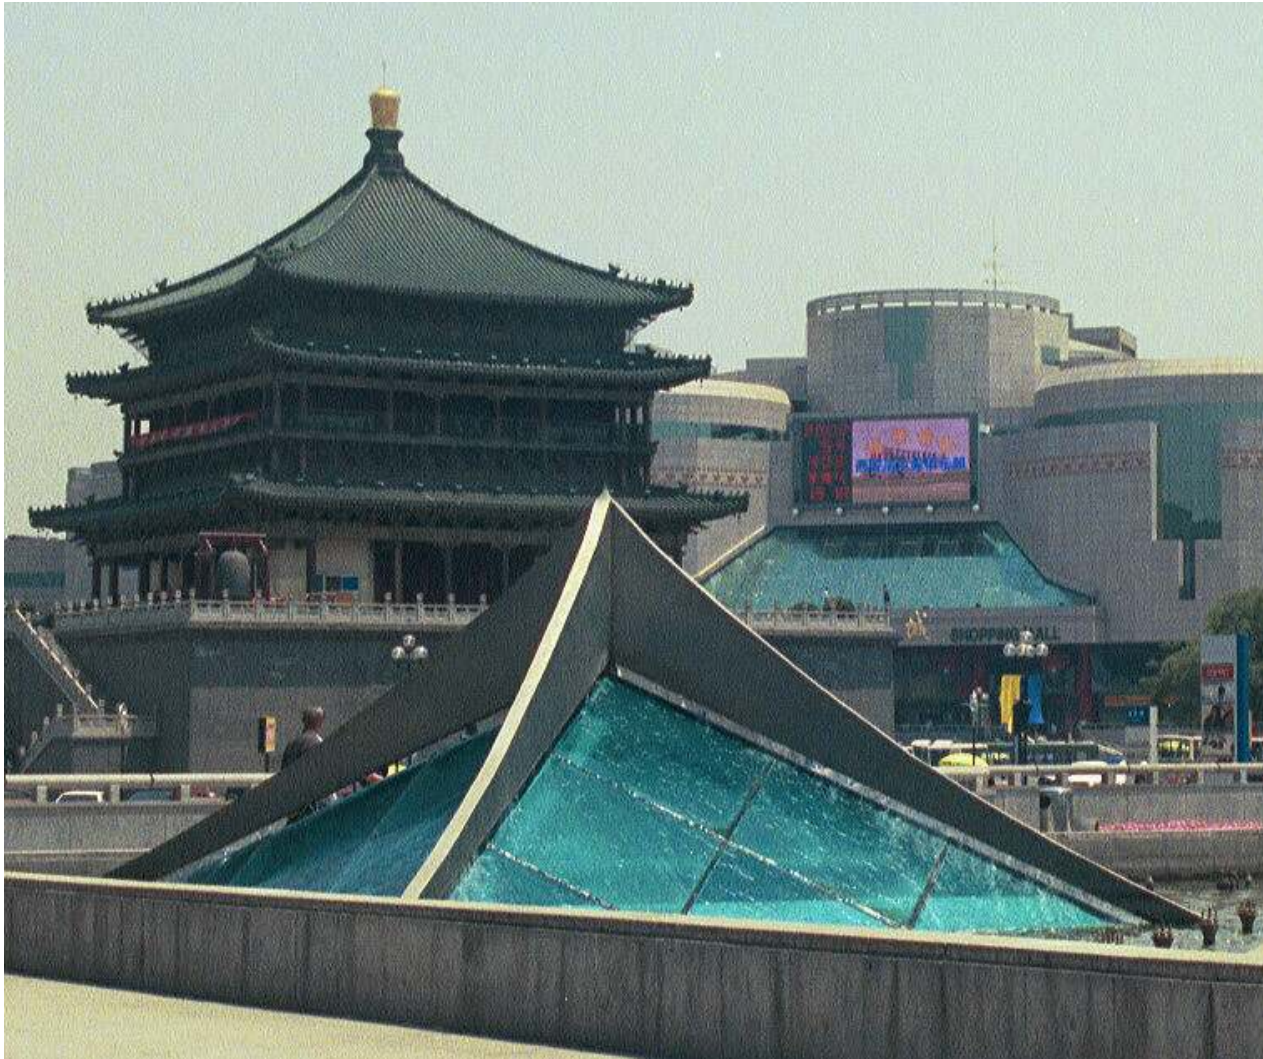

...and Music in the Parks

...and Dancing for All Ages

Xian, Ancient Capital, Modern City

Our Xian Host and Guide

Wang Chengjie

Wei Xing Ying

The Xian Museum

The Terracotta Soldiers

Painstakingly Reassembled

Home of China's Oldest Mosque

Old and New Buddhist Temples

The Boulevard Buddha

And the World's Cutest Waitress

Cruising the Yangtze

It's a Working River

Famous for the Three Gorges

The Canyon Boatmen

Fascinating Towns

The World's Largest Hydro Dam

Which Will Raise the Water

A Fun Time Aboard President 1

Guided by MTI Radar

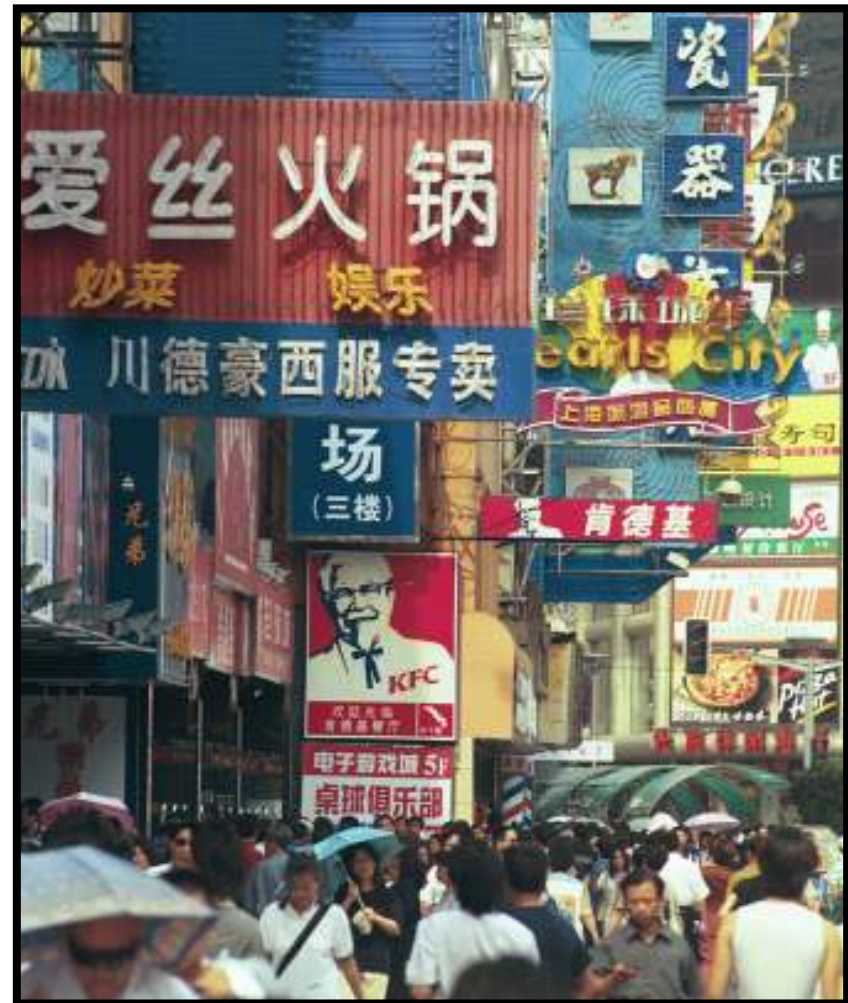

Taiwan's MTI is 15%
Owned by Agilent

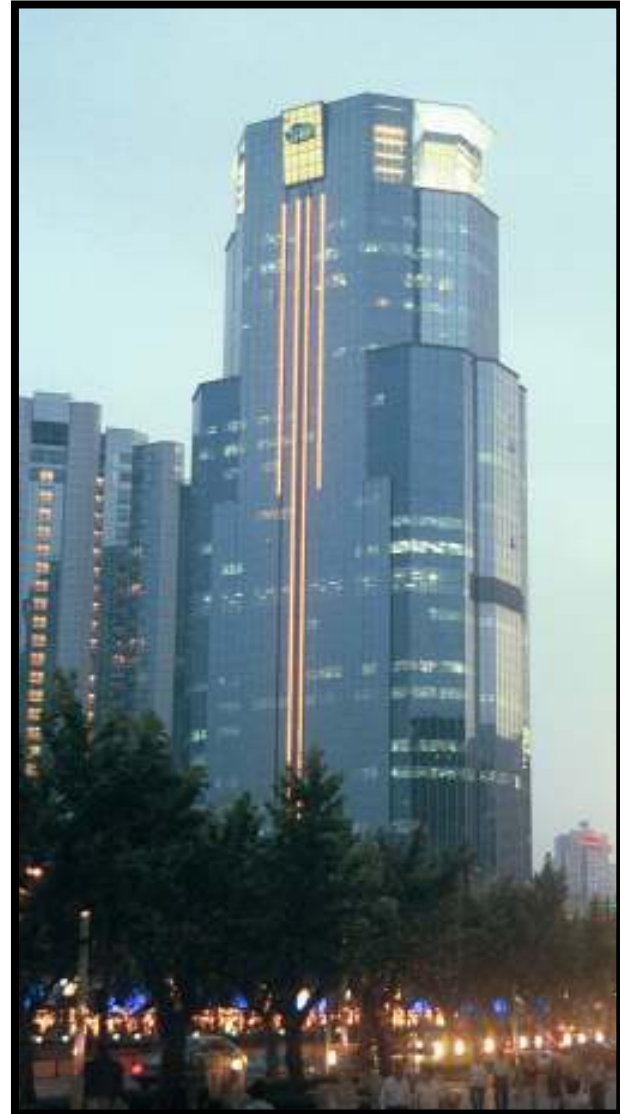

Shanghai...Hub of New China

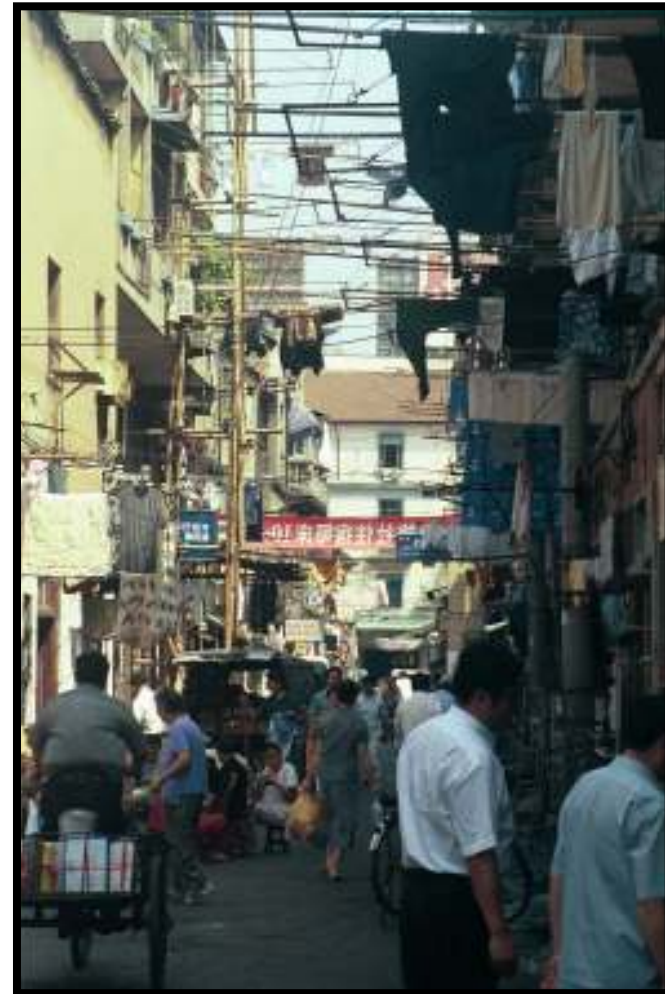

Where West Meets East...

Alive by Night

Alive by Day...

Choked with Traffic

Dangerous Traffic

20th and 21st Century Buildings

Sci-Fi Transport

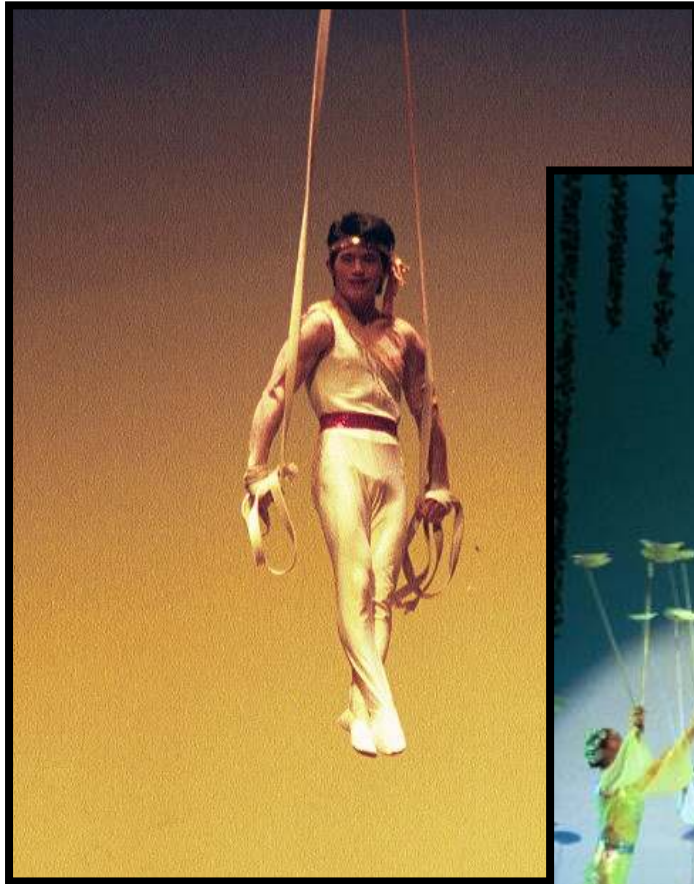

铃响之后请不要
进入车厢。车厢内的
乘客请勿返回站台。
大家配合。
谢谢合作！
▲ 外港观光通道

Home of the Shanghai Acrobats

Arguably the World's Finest

Home of “Shanghai Johnson”

A Trip to Suchow

We Visit Lao Wu's Family

Enjoy Country Hospitality

And Meet the Pride of the Family

Some Interesting Signs

The Champion Sign

China Embraces the Internet

And the Personal Computer

China Embraces Youth Volunteers

Tolerates Some Religions

China, Where Old Meets New

A Unique, Timeless Place

A Place Worth Visiting

